KPU MULTIMEDIA ART CONTEST

My parents decided to make a hard life choice nine years ago, and that was to leave everything behind to move to Canada for me to have a better opportunity in education. Since then I have been working very hard every day to make sure they know I do not take this opportunity for granted.

In high school, I took all art courses to explore all my options and discover new skills. Since then I fell in love with drawing, and that passion leads me to Interior Design program at KPU. I started at KPU in 2014, and I am in my third year. I have dedicated my life to learning and getting the best education; I am at school from Monday and even Saturday and Sunday if I have to. Not only I have learned many new skills and met amazing friends, but I have also learned how to manage to work, study and sleep. Interior design was a career of my dreams when I moved to Canada, and I only have one more year until I finish it. The reality is catching up with my dreams, and my parents have never been more proud of me.

The birds in the drawing represent little pieces of me. Each bird from small to big are the experiences I have gone through in my life, from moving to another country, learning a new language to meeting new friends and starting studying at KPU. The existence of them has made who I am today.

Drawing size is estimated: 18 in x 30 in, and it is all done by pencil.
